

OUT ON THE LIMB
with George Vienne

OLD SETTLERS and the varied activities of last weekend when Campbell celebrated the 73rd annual Old Settlers Days are still fresh in our mind.

Now is the time, in our opinion, when we all should give some thought to how the traditional event can be improved to make it more community-wide in scope.

We have long maintained that the celebration provides an excellent base on which to build an outstanding annual activity. But it needs more of an appeal for all segments of the community, so that everyone feels that they can participate.

Unfortunately the burden of making the celebration go at all always falls on the shoulders of a very few. Thus, the extent of the affair is naturally limited. With more organizations involved there would be more shoulders available.

We would like to see a joint effort of all community organizations develop a program on a coordinated basis and make the annual event really an outstanding one.

We feel that Old Settlers provides an excellent foundation. But it should be expanded. We think it can be.

But it will take a great deal of hard work on the part of interested individuals and the full participation of clubs and organizations.

As a fr'instance, there could be a contest among all youth groups for the best float in the parade in carrying out the theme of the event.

The floats would have to be regulated as to size and type, etc.

In Temple City's Camellia Festival, for example, the floats are built by youth organizations on 4 x 6 wheeled-platforms that are pulled by the youngsters. This eliminates any motor-driven jobs.

Criticism of the Old Settlers has generally been that it has not varied over the years. --You see one and you see 'em all.

We would be interested in learning how others feel. We would welcome responses from our readers (Yes, both of 'em).

NEWCOMERS to our community, of course, outnumber by far the old-timers. The greatest influx of people has come in the last few years.

We have been around, for example, for almost 10 years which sort of puts us in the middle. No longer can we be classified as a newcomer. But then we are far from being an old-timer.

After all, this paper is 70 years old.

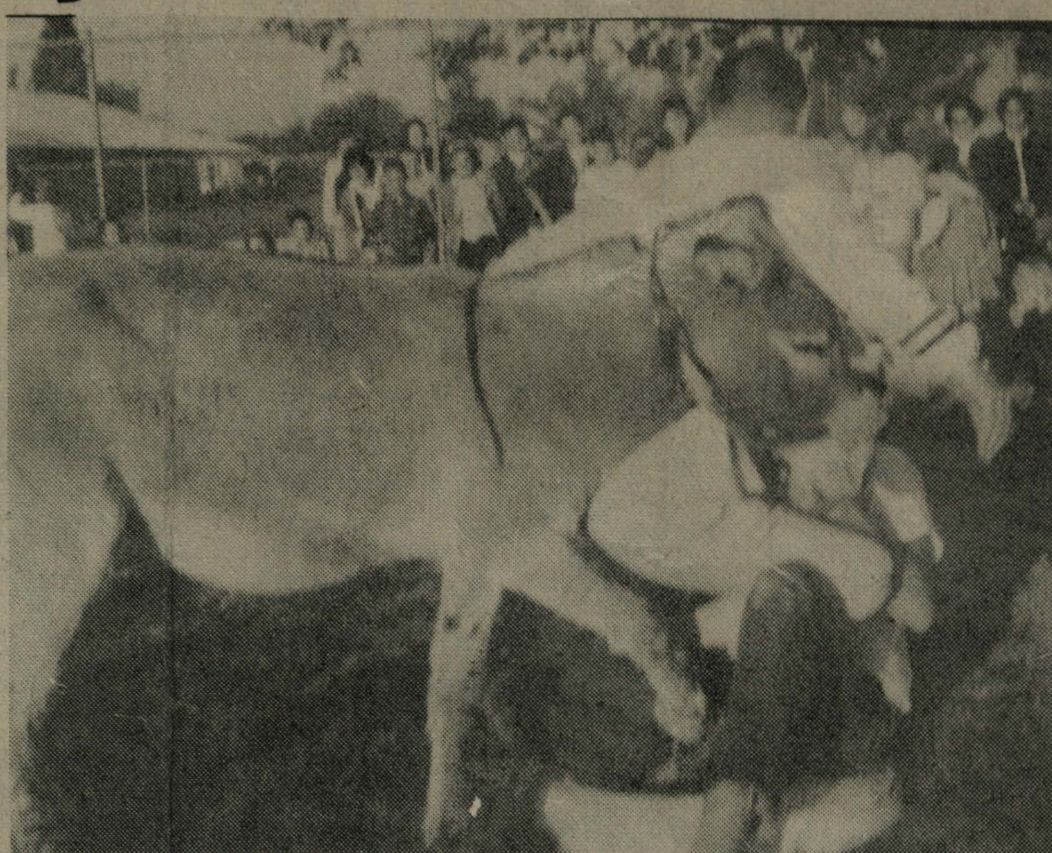

We still think it is important to keep our link with the past. We continually try to pre-

Thousands view Sunday parade

An estimated 30,000 spectators lined the parade route on Sunday for the 73rd annual Old Settlers parade.

Taking top positions in the parade were two local football greats, Craig Morton and Jack Schraub, who starred at University of California. They were co-grand marshals.

Glynis Wright, attractive Campbell High coed, as Miss Campbell and the two runners-up for the crown, Susan Adams and Sandy Germain, were also in places of honor.

The hour-long parade was directed by LeRoy Black.

Council to hear about overpasses

City Council members on Monday night will receive a report by the city engineer's staff on how the San Tomas Expressway will affect the various intersections within the city limits.

The city administration and the Chamber of Commerce are both anxious for the city to take an official position as to the future policy on whether the expressway is to go under or over the streets. Streets affected include Campbell, Hamilton, Latimer, Rincon, Budd, Camden and Sunnyoaks.

'Brass' to meet at new 'park'

County officials will join Campbell brass this Friday when the seven-acre parcel near Camden Ave. on Los Gatos is dedicated.

Campbell recently purchased the property from the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District. Plans call for it eventually to be developed into a marina park.

The parcel, now used as a percolation pond, adjoins 80-acres of similar ponds. Because the development can be part of the overall park-link project along the creek, the supervisors recently indicated their interest in the plans.

Ben Strong, long-time businessman, dies

Last rites were held Tuesday for Benjamin R. Strong, 88, proprietor of Strong Paint Co., 46 E. Campbell Ave., who suffered a fatal heart attack while waiting on a customer in his store last Friday afternoon.

Emergency rescue equipment of the Campbell Fire Department was rushed to the scene, but Strong was pronounced dead on arrival at Campbell Community Hospital.

Strong was a native of Anoka, Minnesota and served in the Spanish-American War. He lived in Canon City, Colorado, until 1937 when he came to Campbell. He was a member of Campbell Rotary

Gas station permits perplex city planners

That perennial, persistent and perplexing permit problem of service station control almost proved too much for the Planning Commission to handle Monday night.

Two use permit applications for service stations were on the agenda. Both were ultimately approved by a 3-2 vote of the commissioners present. But it took some doing and a number of motions before any decision could be reached.

Slightly complicating the procedure was that the commission, in a previous meeting, had approved the plans for a service station of American Oil Co. at Winchester and Latimer on property owned by Charles Rose.

Ordinarily the use permit is obtained first but because of the delay in publishing the notice of hearing, the plans of the station were approved prior to the use permit hearing.

The commission approved the use permit by 3-2 vote but not before all the old arguments (and some new ones) on the subject were trotted out by the commissioners and members of the audience.

Bill Oltmann, local public accountant, took the floor to vigorously oppose the issuance of the use permit. He termed Winchester Blvd. had become a "gasoline alley" and illustrated on the blackboard how many stations were on the street. He said he represented clients who had stations and that few, if any, of gas station owners now were getting by.

His arguments were seconded by Don Eddleman, operator of the Shell station across from the Rose property. Chairman Thayer Lyons recalled publicly (and Eddleman agreed) that a year or so before Eddleman had presented arguments on the other side of the case before the commission.

Lou Colla, on the other hand, operator of the Mobil Station at Winchester and Hamilton for 11 years, maintained that the permit should be approved. It was not fair, he said, "to crucify" one station and approve others.

Fred Chez, local developer, also defended the issuance of the permit, as a part of the free enterprise system. Commissioners were in agreement that they had no business getting involved in whether a station could make money. Their job was planning.

On the vote, Commissioners Henry Klein and Jim Tomlinson voted against the permit with Lyons, Harry Lee and Homer Hyde on the other side.

On the other service station matter, the request for a use permit on the northeast corner

Downtown Campbell

Development of downtown Campbell in the proper manner is a tough and sticky problem. But city officials, merchants and just plain ordinary citizens, seem to be agreed that some program needs to be launched to improve the area.

Which way to go is a question that is providing many furrowed brows among the people concerned.

Two ideas for the future development have been presented for study. One calls for the extension of streets on each side of Campbell Ave. to allow through traffic to move more efficiently. This suggestion includes the designing of store buildings in such a manner that there is a free flow of customer traffic back and forth across Campbell Ave. It also suggests a development of a special identity for this business section to be carried out in architectural styling.

Another suggestion is the development of the area north of Campbell Ave. to Latimer Ave. into a commercial and office complex with the civic center of the city as a core.

Both suggestions have merit and we think almost everyone would be satisfied with the end results in either case.

The obvious problem, of course, is how to reach the objective.

It will be an expensive undertaking and both call for long-range planning. Neither will take place overnight.

In both cases it will mean the removal of many of the present buildings, both residential and commercial, and the construction of new ones in specified areas and with specified designs.

Both suggestions are more or less dreams. But dreams can be carried out, provided all are agreed on which way to move forward.

We have no idea which is the proper method. Frankly, we will go along with either, if the parties involved and property owners concerned are enthusiastic. They will be the ones who will have to pick up the bulk of the tab.

The city administration is limited as to how far city funds can be expended in these projects.

True, the city can provide the proper direction and can assist in a multitude of ways, financially and morally, as the community as a whole will ultimately benefit in some degree or another.

A good case in point is the off-street parking situation on Campbell Ave.

No matter what is decided upon as the ultimate goal, off-street parking is a necessity. The city staff has been working closely with the Downtown Development Committee in this area.

For example, an engineering firm has presented a preliminary draft for off-street parking on the city's direction. Arrangements are being made to obtain preliminary appraisal reports on all of the property affected by the proposed parking district. The engineering firm will provide the city with cost estimates which, in turn, will be presented and discussed with the members of the Downtown Development Committee.

The report will include the spread of benefit to various property owners and the possible use of adjacent properties.

We feel that the city is showing the proper attitude in this matter and the cost of these preliminary reports is a justifiable city expenditure.

But we reiterate, the city can only go so far. Then the burden of carrying out the plan to the proper conclusion must of necessity fall on the property owners.

What we are trying to say is that any improvement program of this nature must be a coordinated and cooperative one, if any degree of success is to be achieved.

We are certain that the business people who will benefit from such a program do not expect the city to underwrite the whole shebang.

By the same token, the city must recognize that there are distinct areas in which the city must take the lead and assist financially.

We have no idea where the line of distinction is between the two.

That is something that must be worked out on a legal and engineering basis in order to be fair to all.

We are convinced, however, that with proper communication (between property owners and city) that something can be worked out.

First, of course, it must be agreed that something must be done for the downtown area.

MORE ABOUT

Sometimes records of the past are incomplete and often we get different versions when we try to verify some of the historical points from old-timers.

For example after the recent high school board election we mentioned that Mrs. DOROTHY GOBLE, who was elected to the high school board of trustees, was the first woman to be accorded that honor.

Hardly had the paper been on the streets when we received a call from JUDGE JOHN BLAINE, who believes his 90-plus years by keeping abreast with everything that goes on in the community, past, present and future.

Judge Blaine, who is a real pioneer of the community and is related to the Campbells, has been for years our "encyclopedia Campbelliana". We depend on him to put us straight.

And he did on this first-woman-on-the-board bit.

He recalled that Mrs. Jessie Shelley, who resided in the Cambrian area, served on the high school board when he was a member. So we stand corrected.

Thus, Mrs. Goble is NOT the first woman member of the local school board. And we betcha she won't be the last.

A PARK LINK along Los Gatos Creek has long been our dream, as we mentioned editorially last week.

We mentioned also that the dream had received an impetus because the county supervisors had recently shown interest in it for the first time.

In the editorial we also referred to a letter on the subject from Mrs. Marge Schanck.

But in the editorial we became involved typographically in the spelling of Marge's name.

We mentioned her name three times. And each time we spelled it differently.

This week we received a letter (not for publication) from Marge which we just must share with you. We are sure Marge won't mind.

So here it goes: If you read it aloud, it will be really more effective. The capitalizations are ours.

"Dearest JORGE VEERUS,

"Glad you liked my park suggestion but instead of being puffed up, I SCHRANCK.

"Don't you think SCHANCK has enough consonants to one vowel without adding another one?

active in Chamber of Commerce, Goodwill Industries and Boy Scouts and has served as Old Settlers celebration chairman.

The dinner, prepared by special caterers who will serve filet mignon as entree, will start at 7:30 p.m. A social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Bud Jolimay, teacher at Rolling Hills, will MC the dinner.

The request had been made by Mrs. Mary C. Nye and Ira Brotzman, owners of the property. They had agreed to the dedication of necessary property to the street plan line. The property will have 140-foot frontage on Winchester and 160-foot on Kennedy after dedication.

After the hearing had ended and the commissioners began voting (or not voting) it looked like the matter would be stalemated.

First, a motion to approve made by Hyde was lost because of no second.

Then a motion to deny made by Klein and seconded by Lee lost 3-2.

Klein and Lee against Hyde, Tomlinson and Lyons.

So they were right back where they had started.

Tomlinson finally broke the impasse by specifying that rigid architectural controls would be exercised when the plans were presented.

His motion for approval was carried 3-2. Klein and Lee against Hyde, Tomlinson and Lyons.

Then the commission went on to less controversial matters.

($5400 to $5700) which will cost the district $216,000, the district trustees learned at their last meeting. Roy Bosworth and Bud Jolimay, of the finance committee of Campbell Elementary Teachers' Association presented the salary proposals to the board.

Superintendent William Henley and Neal Royer, assistant superintendent, did not indicate to the board that they supported the proposals but reported they would check the accuracy of the other cost estimates and present a group of alternate proposals for board consideration. The present salary ranges based on $5400 for beginners to $10,800 after 12 years of experience and 60 graduate semester units, including the master's degree.

Another request would extend the top range would be based on $5700 for a beginner and would go to a top of $12,426 for 15 years of experience and 60 graduate semester units beyond the bachelor's degree. It would estimate that this would cost $30,000. The total cost of the proposals would be $321,000.

THAT BEAUTIFUL new Chevy Impala that Vicar A. D. (KIT) CARSON is driving is the gift of several anonymous donors from his parish, St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 W. Rincon Ave. . .

The 50th wedding anniversary of MR. AND MRS. OTTO PETERSEN of 1066 Wekiva Ave. was celebrated by the couple's children in the traditional Norwegian manner. . .

It was noted at the PTA State Convention held May 5, 6 and 7 in San Diego that there were 379 men in attendance. How about that? MR. AND MRS. GERALD B. ELLIOTT, 660 Monica Lane, are celebrating the arrival of a daughter, Kathleen, born May 12 at Campbell Community Hospital. . .

Five students from Campbell have been honored for their academic excellence at San Jose State College. They are JUDITH REMLEY, KAREN DOOLITTLE, ROGER HARRISON, ALICE WILSON AND CAROL BALDWIN. . .

PAUL LANDWEHR, Secretary-Manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, suffered a mild heart attack while announcing the Donkey Softball game last Saturday night. Latest word is that he is recovering and will be back on the job in a few days. . .

THE BOB CURRY'S, former Campbell residents now living in Nevada, came back to their old stompin' grounds for a reunion of the class of 1935, from San Jose High. They won the prize for having the youngest child, a three year old.

Campbell High nears league diamond title

Campbell High School's varsity baseball team, with a seven-game winning streak going, faced Los Gatos on Tuesday of this week in a game that could wrap up the large bunting for the Bucs for the second year in a row.

In the meantime, Campbell's fast-stepping frosh-soph team, still undefeated with a 6-0 league record, had the title cinched.

Del Mar Sports

Dave Shilling, of Del Mar's "B" swimming team, proved himself to be one of the best swimmers in the Central Coast area as he set one record and took two first places in the annual Division II meet held at Santa Clara on May 8.

Shilling, who led the Dons' "B" team to a league championship this season, broke the "B" record in winning the 100 yard breaststroke and also won the 100-yard individual medley event. This remarkable performance is made even more so by the fact that Shilling is only a freshman this year and he is swimming against some of the toughest competition in the state.

Shilling's double victory overshadowed another outstanding effort by his teammate Glenn Schanck, also a freshman. Schanck won the 100 yard backstroke event. Junior

WHAT'S DOING?

Early day telephone directories were usually just lists of folks in town who had service, with an explanation of how to crank the phone to get the operator's attention. But not any more. The first few pages in today's phone books are filled with lots of useful information: numbers to call in emergencies, for telephone repair service, for assistance on calls, and to order new services or changes. They give instructions for speeding long distance calls and a list of Area Codes. These "how-to" pages will help you get top value from your telephone service. And that's a pretty good reason for using them.

Did you know that until 1929, the President of the United States had always used a telephone in a booth outside his executive office? Herbert Hoover was the first President to have a phone on his desk.

Your telephone bill still includes the 10% Federal Excise Tax initiated during World War II. Telephone service is the only household utility so taxed. This cost Pacific Telephone subscribers in California an extra $102 million last year. We believe this tax should be removed. You, the customer, would get the total saving.

Today's safety tip: If you want to avoid that "run-down" feeling, don't jaywalk.

Some henpecked husbands may have considered getting an extension phone for the dog house. But one customer I heard about wanted an extension phone for the pigeon coop... and he got it. A homing pigeon racer, he'd be in the coop timing flight arrivals while other pigeon race fans were calling his house to see how the race was going. You might say he was all in a flap, running back and forth. And so he had a step-saving extension phone installed in the pigeon coop. Our installers aim to please.
